Don't Unleash War, LBJ Warns Russ told the dairy leaders from seven south-eastern states.

"Let no would-be aggressor misjudge American policy during this administration," the President said. "I express the hope and the belief that there will be no condoning of aggressors and no appeasement of those who prowl across national boundaries — by this or by any other American administration.

Alluding to the divisions in America, the President said "we have molded some heads of state in recent years, in my judgment, and they have misinterpreted the wiekings of democracy."

He said it was clear to him that the Kremlin felt its interests were threatened by "the emergence of even modest degrees of national independence and human liberty in Eastern Europe."

"In a tragic sense" the Soviet Union applied "the full measure of military power in Czechoslovakia where tonight hundreds of tanks surround the capital," the President said.

"Surely it is too late in history for small nations to be denied their right to national existence," he added.

"The charter of the United Nations makes this a fundamental right of all nations. There should not be any doubt in the minds of anyone as to where the United States of America stands on a question so fundamental to the peace of the world."

"So let no one unleash the dogs of war," he said. "Let no one even in this period of highly charged domestic debate in our country even doubt what the great views of the American people are on these matters."

Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee and Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) of the House Ways and Means Committee were on the platform when the President spoke. He shook hands with them as he left the hall to return to his car.

In his prepared speech, the President said that he would devote all his energies this autumn "to placing the next President in the strongest possible position."

In the insertion, he said he could not speak for a unitary commander-in-chief, but that "I can and I do and I will speak for this administration until Jan. 20."

He said that he promised four years ago that "we will [illegible] keep our hand out in search for peace and honorable accommodation, but we will also keep our guard up at all times against communist aggression."

To prepare for a change of administration, the President said he would work for an honorable peace in Vietnam, for an end of divisions among our people, "in trying to "prevent another World War," and to preserve a sound economy.

There were few political nuances in the speech except when the President inveighed against "the spirit of [illegible]" — an apparent criticism of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and other Democrats who refuse to support the Humphrey-Muskie Democratic ticket.

He urged his audience to "beware of those who preach disunion."

Earlier Friday, the President hailed Vice President Humphrey's acceptance speech in Chicago last night as "excellent."

Friday night he said that "the turmoil and the shouting are over now — at least for a few days. The campaign this fall will ask for our people to decide issues that will affect their destiny for decades to come."

In another vague political reference, the President said that "pride in ourselves and our country is not a sin, though some try for decades to come."

"It is America's enduring strength.

"It is the answer — rational and confident men in those in the world who oppose our ideals and those among us who mock it."

concert were told that a youth was waving a pistol around in a men's washroom.

The officers found the youth and disarmed him. Several youths attempted to attack the officers, who held them off at gunpoint.

Police Capt. Donald Blakely said he called out 150 policemen.

Patrolman Gene Gordon at the scene with the first squad car arrival said at least "eight or ten shots were fired at us."

The violence spread to the Second-University Avenue area, where other officers were fired at.

Patrolman T. F. Owens and two neighbors were injured, but not seriously.

A television cameraman from KSTP, Duane Margesen, was struck by youths waving pipe bombs. The youths broke his cameras and threw a bag through his rear window, striking Margesen's hip. A reporter for the St. Paul Dispatch, Don Ahern, was roughed up and his glasses broken.

A cab driver was pulled from his cab and beaten.

Some weapons were confiscated. A Minneapolis couple was held without charge. Police said they found a .45 caliber sub-machine gun in the trunk of their car, and a .45 caliber pistol was found under the front seat. Five other persons were charged with unlawful assembly.

In Survey On Convo Riots

Most In U.S. Say Daley's Cops OK

NEW YORK (UPI) — A poll taken during the Democratic national convention indicates that only one American in five believes the Chicago authorities used excessive force in dealing with demonstrators.

Of 1,196 adults surveyed Thursday by the market research firm of Sindlinger and Co., 41.7 per cent thought Chicago Mayor Richard Daley was doing a good job. Only 21.3 per cent thought the police were overly violent. An overall majority of 71.4 per cent thought the security measures employed in Chicago were justified.

A large minority of those polled — 48.3 per cent — thought the demonstrations were "organized to disrupt the convention and create riot conditions in Chicago."

A sizeable number — 46.7 per cent — thought the disturbances would affect the November election, and 39.4 per cent thought the Democrats would lose votes because of them.

Only 4.2 per cent thought they would enlist "some sympathy for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic Presidential candidate.

On the question of Daley's performance, 18.3 per cent thought the mayor was doing a poor job, and 20.1 per cent had no opinion.

As for the force used by the police, 56.8 per cent of those polled did not regard it as excessive and 21.9 per cent had no opinion.

Almost all of those polled — 93.5 per cent — had seen, heard, or read about the demonstrations.

Montreal Man Becomes 35th Heart Transplant

MONTREAL (AP) — A 58-year-old father of five was reported "recovering very well" today after becoming the world's 35th heart transplant patient.

Officials at the Montreal Heart Hospital said the new heart of Elie Zaur, a native of Turkey who came to Canada 40 years ago, "took over in a beautiful fashion." It was Canada's third heart transplant.

One electrical shock was needed to start the heart taken from widow Lamothe, a 38-year-old worker from Sorel, Que., spokesmen said.

Lamothe, who suffered a massive brain hemmorhage, was taken unconscious Thursday to Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal and "by all practical purposes . . . was dead for a day and a half" before the operation, doctors said.

The operation began about 8 p.m. Friday and ended near midnight.

The surgical team was headed by Dr. Pierre Grondin.

31 Children Hurt In Bus Crashes

OTTUMWA, Iowa (UPI) — Fifteen kindergarten children were injured Friday when the school bus they were in collided head-on with a semi-trailer truck.

The bus was slowing for a stop about 16 miles west of Ottumwa when the collision occurred.

Earlier Friday, 29 persons were hurt — 27 of them school children — when a school bus and an auto collided near Osage, Iowa, about 200 miles north of the Ottumwa accident scene.

Most of the injured in the accidents were treated and released from local hospitals.

7 Reported Dead From Gary Blaze

GARY, Ind. (AP) — An early morning fire in what is known as Gary's Midtown section was reported today to have taken seven lives.

The blaze was believed to have started by an explosion in a tavern on the ground floor of a building then spread to two adjacent structures.

Five officials said they estimated seven persons were dead. Elmer Budnick, a Gary Post-Tribune photographer at the scene, said there could be "two or three and nine" dead.

The burned buildings were at 17th Street and Broadway in a near downtown neighborhood.

All the structures were either two or three stories high.

Algeria Releases Hijacked Israeli Plane's Crewmen

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Algerian government today released the 12 Israeli crewmen and passengers from an Israeli airliner hijacked and diverted to Algiers five weeks ago, the Israeli Foreign Ministry announced. They were placed on a plane and flown to Rome.

A spokesman said the Italian Embassy was informed the Israeli Embassy in Rome of the release.

He said he had no information about the release of the plane.

Israel has been pressing for the release of the plane since it was hijacked by armed Palestinians shortly after it took off from Rome headed for Tel Aviv five weeks ago.

Women and children passengers and the stewardesses were flown to Geneva a few days after the hijacking. Only the men and the plane were held.

Ike's Doctors Report More Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was released from his aortic heart attack and is now well enough to read "a lot."

In reporting this step forward, Eisenhower's doctors said Friday the 78-year-old general's condition continues to improve. This, too, represented further encouragement since earlier reports have been limited to describing Eisenhower's morale as "remarkably good" or to saying he was "cheerful."

Brothers said Eisenhower is now permitted "light reading." Earlier, he was allowed to listen to light background music in his Walter Reed Army Hospital suite.

Eisenhower suffered his second attack since 1955 on Aug. 16. It was his third attack since entering the hospital in May. Not he appeared to recover more slowly this time, remaining on the critical list well past the usual one week period.

He was taken off the critical list Wednesday.

Called To Support Chicago Demonstrators

Policeman Shot As Violence Erupts At Berkeley Protest

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — A policeman was shot in the leg early today after a rally by young, radical activists developed into a traffic-blocking mob some less than four blocks from the University of California.

Squads of helmeted, club-carrying police broke up the milling crowd of about 800 with war gas and "sweeping gas" after attempting for an hour and a half to disperse the crowd.

The officer was shot in the thigh. He was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital. Doctors said the wound was not serious. Police said they were investigating the origin of the shot.

Another policeman was injured by flying glass and also was hospitalized.

Neither was identified immediately.

The rally broke up shortly after 10 p.m., when permits to use loudspeakers expired. A police spokesman said most of the crowd of 2,500 left the scene after the orderly rally.

It had been called to show support for anti-war demonstrators roughed up by police during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Ten young people from the Socialist Alliance, the Independent Socialist Club, the Black Panther Party and the Peace and Freedom Party organized the demonstrations.

Witnesses said youths who remained when the rally ended suddenly broke windows at a Bank of America office and threw red paint on the front door.

A line of six policemen walked down a three-block stretch where the crowd of about 300 was gathered, asking youths to clear the streets. They did, but moved off the curb again when the police line passed. Some in the crowd shouted obscenities and called the police "pigs."

Other police patrolled in unmarked cars, but took no action until the effort to disperse the crowd by the lines of six policemen apparently failed.

Demonstrators said they faced a new police weapon when officers used a "pepper-fogger," a device which produced a gas that caused sneezing.

Ignite Flare in Locked Car

3 Children Burn To Death in Auto

SOUTH SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (UPI) — Three children burned to death in a locked car in a supermarket parking lot Friday afternoon despite the frantic efforts of bystanders to rescue them.

Enrique Zavala Sr., 23, and his wife, Consuelo, 26, of San Gabriel, left the youngsters in the auto when they went to the market to cash a check.

While they were gone, the children found and ignited a road flare, which the family carried in the car for emergencies.

Lidia Martin Estrada, 4, and her brother, Enrique, 2, and their month-old sister, Consuelo, began screaming after the interior of the car caught fire.

William Zavala, 28, of Temple City, Calif., rushed to the auto. He grasped the heated door handle and tried to rip the door open when the fire broke out.

Joseph Burter, 25, an off-duty fireman from nearby San Marino, tried to break a window, but was unable to do it quickly enough to reach the children. He was treated at Garfield hospital in Monterey Park for second and third degree burns. The children's mother was admitted to the hospital for treatment of shock.

"We locked the doors," her husband sobbed, "to make sure nothing would happen to them."

The Estrada had been in the area less than five minutes when the fire broke out.

Carroll, 36, of Scottsdale, Ariz. One lobe of her lung was received by William J. Whaley, 38, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

One kidney went to William C. Kaiser, 41, of Odessa, Tex.

The other kidney was transplanted to Theresa A. Strytmon, 22, of Houston.

This was the first heart transplant at Methodist Hospital.

Houston had become the center for heart transplants with three in a row.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley heading the surgery team at St. Luke's Hospital.

Dr. Cooley has made nine heart transplants. Five have survived and two have been discharged from the hospital and are employed in Houston.

Today's heart transplant is the 30th in the world.

Lung transplants are relatively rare but several have been performed.

Kidney transplants are almost routine now with more than 1,700 such operations being done. Where once it was essential that the donor and recipient be blood kin, this no longer is necessary.

The government ordered relief and rescue operations in the area threatened by hunger and disease.

Josephson, 73, had kept the securities in an unlocked filing cabinet in his library, but took them out, planning to put them in the bank. He said the securities, as negotiable as cash, were not insured.
