A business meeting and social hour will follow. The school events will be open prior to the meeting for parents to talk with their children's teachers.

Judge Holds Decision On Validation

The Seminole County courthouse question is at 7 o'clock about one day and holding after a one-hour hearing Thursday which left pending cases at a standstill and promised possible further confusion because of the adoption of the new state constitution.

Circuit Court Judge Roger Dykes Thursday withheld ruling on any recommendation of his validation sept. 12, of $2.4 million construction bonds for a new Seminole County courthouse in hopes that some of "the legal gymnastics" of the case will clear up in a few days.

New Fogger Replaces Police Billy

Police Chief Ben Butler said the fogger was an effective one and could bring under control large masses of people.

The fogger is filled with CN gas, a potent irritant. "Place it on the fogger for individual control," said the chief said, "and the fogger with CN gas for crowd control."

SO FAR, it has only been used in this area for testing.

Winter Park Man Killed On SR 436

A 32-year-old Winter Park man was killed Thursday morning when he drove his car into SR 436 from Howell Branch Road and was hit head-on by another car.

With the opening group protesting the zoning for apartment buildings.

INDICATIONS ARE that this recommendation will be appealed before the county commission.

The other zoning changes recommended at the public hearings were: Request by Henry W. Duke, 1800 E. 1st St., for rezoning of about 18 acres located at SR 40 and Howell Branch Road, east of Midland, from A-1 agriculture and C-1 commercial to R-3 multiple family.

Courthouse Stake

Lawn in front of county sheriff's office is marked by stakes in the one above which might never be of any use. Stakes mark area where proposed new courthouse will be built if it is ever constructed in Sanford. But before stake will be of any value it appears county residents will have to have vote to determine if Sanford will be county seat. Meanwhile, stakes are unpleasant reminders of county seat and courthouse battle. (Staff Photo by Bruce Dudley)

School Board To Review Suspension

The Seminole County School Board requested a review of suspension policy Thursday after a concerned parent told the board that his son had been suspended during an examination period and he thought it unfair punishment to take the examination.

The board voted unanimously to permit the junior high student to take the examination.

LEE MOORE of Sanford, the boy's father, said it was a case of bad timing in that the second part of an English test was given during his son's three-day suspension punishment.

School board member Mrs. Jean Bryant questioned the use of suspension and said it should be "only a last resort."

Board chairman Marion Wharton and member James Brinkmeyer said that this board action was made on the individual case only.

BIRKENMEYER PROPOSED that the school superintendent and principals meet for a collective review of suspension policy.

Other action taken by the school board included acceptance of a bid from Jones Electric Co. for the purchase of electrical equipment; a low bid of $12,679 for paint from Home Builders and a low bid of $1,288 from Vides Corp. for recording equipment.

School finance director Walter A. Tague submitted a financial report and pointed out that the school budget had been approved by the State Department and was now back on file.

Pole Needs New Flag

Maitland's water department superintendent Harry Hunsinger has fabricated the flag pole now standing at the Department of Public Works office building adjacent to city hall.

Now all they need is a flag!

The pole removed from the front of City Hall has been installed at the DPW garage compound on Avenue Avenue and the two new ones at city hall are flying the United States and Florida flags as of this week.
