WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) —

Partly due to the district's the school, especially de ment, only eight are above the 80 percent mark.

The Des Moines board ap-nominee in May of 1974 to study the issue of desegregation, who will be reand sending public opin-

on to the board of regulation of students.

The steering committee recommendation was to limit enrollments of every school to 25 per cent. That recommendation and several others made by different members of the citizens committee would require some school reorganization of students.

The citizens committee's recommendations were then returned by the board to Davis and his administration for study.

The school board also is cooperating from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Kansas City, Mo.

Office of Civil Rights, which has begun a probe to determine whether there are any dis-

Find 1 of 19 'Under Influence'

SHUX CITY, IA. — One of every 19 drivers taking part in a voluntary survey here were found to be under the influence of alcohol.

On two recent weekends, drivers were stopped and interviewed at 25 sites during the evening and early morning hours.

In all, 42 drivers agreed to submit breath samples for analysis. Of those, 18 had a blood alcohol level of at least

0.10 per cent, the prescribed limit for interviewing by law.

Drivers who were over the limit were not arrested, but were taken to their homes and taken care of by their families.

The survey was taken as part of the State Capital

Project begun in 1972.

Properly trained officers from the Iowa State Police and the Des Moines Police Department conducted the survey. "With one exception, there is a compelling need for continued law enforcement in our area."

Can't Subpoena Reporter's Notes

By David Bitt

A motion by attorney

John H. Wiegand of Burlington to subpoena a Des Moines Tribune reporter's notes for use in the federal court decision, Or-chenger v. The Des Moines

Register, was denied by U.S. District Court Judge Leo C.

Chapman.

Chapman ruled in favor of the reporter, saying that the notes were not confidential and that the reporter had no duty to keep them secret. The court also ruled that the reporter had no duty to keep them confidential.

There was a critical issue in the case of whether the notes were confidential. The court ruled that the
